Norelle Rizkalla Reilly, MD, is a pediatric gastroenterologist whose clinical and research interest is celiac disease and its manifestations in children. Dr. Reilly is a member of the Celiac Disease Center at Columbia University Medical Center. She is also trained in wireless capsule endoscopy, which can be used to non-invasively visualize areas of the small bowel that traditional endoscopy and colonoscopy are unable to reach. Dr. Reilly is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Reilly earned her medical degree from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey-New Jersey Medical School in 2003. Following that she completed her internship and residency in pediatrics at Children's Hospital at Montefiore, Albert Einstein College of Medicine. From 2007 to 2010, she pursued a fellowship in pediatric gastroenterology at NewYork-Presbyterian/Morgan Stanley Children's Hospital, Columbia University Medical Center.
